years of age, with only $100 to his name, he arrived in America and turned a college textbook publishing idea into a company profiting in the millions. He intimately experienced, "With God, nothing is impossible! He's frequently quoted saying, "You cannot out-give God!" In addition to a passion for helping and healing the hurts of others, God endowed him with many unique and desirable spiritual gifts for the church.

Third-generation Senior Pastor Ezekiel Agular of Gethsemane Apostolic Church, announced in a recent revival and healing event in California,

"In all my life I have never seen the power of the Holy Spirit administered to the people as Pastor Altschul has done at our church. This meeting was way over-the-top of my expectations!"

After completing successful European ministry events of 2015, Pastor Altschul remarked; "We are already gearing up for increased ministry events in 2016 in the United States. We are witnessing the sovereign hand of God through a grass-roots level awakening of people from all walks of life across America. God-Centered Americans are experiencing a movement of revived patriotism and hope as they watch presidential candidate Donald Trump declare his campaign from city to city to “Make America Great Again.”

According to Altschul, “Many religious leaders are uniting their voices articulating God’s graciousness for His people in America, despite the tumultuous times we are enduring today. God is once again calling for revival as the final stages in preparation for the soon coming, the “Blessed Hope” starting in America, that will resonate out to other lands.”
